

Tiffanie R. Robertson

Platform: Growth through Spiritual Development

My name is Tiffanie Ronette' Robertson. I was born in Memphis, TN on March 7, 1986, to Dorothy Robertson and Ronald Nalley. I have a younger brother, Quevas, who is my source inspiration. I come from a loving and supportive family that taught me the importance of being a humble and hard working young woman. I have a great passion for poetry. I began writing at the tender age of eight and over the years my gift has blossomed. I have found strength and maturity through writing, as it develop my faith, patience, discipline and tenacity. It is through my poetry I find freedom and peace from a chaotic world. Someday I plan to publish my poetry book.

I am a 2004 graduate of Hernando High School. I am a member of Brown Missionary Baptist Church. I am also involved in the youth and young adult ministry. I am on the youth counsel and a youth teacher. I was a volunteer for the Sexual Revolution event at the Desoto Civic Center. My Platform is GROWTH THROUGH SPIRITUAL DEVELOPMENT. I strongly believe, there is something extraordinary about focusing your life on the Father and allowing Him to direct your path. My worship experience and growth in faith have been both spiritually fulfilling and personally rewarding.

Currently, I am working at St. Francis Hospital. I plan to major in criminology and pursue my doctorate in Christian counseling. My life ambition is to be a positive role model for America's youth. I have a wonderful support system that is behind me every step of the way and my hope is to positively impact others in my journey to become the next Miss Mahogany 2008.

My greatest accomplishment is yet to come.
